BATTLE IN MID AIR.

DESPERATE TRIANGLE STRUGGLE BETWEEN BIRDS.

A Bluejay's Rescue from the Talons of a Sparrow Hawk in a Thorn Tree—The Daring of a True Gritted Mocker.

A savage and desperate fight in mid air was a scene witnessed a few afternoons since in the space in front of Evergreen Lodge, and the combatants were a Sparrow Hawk, a Bluebird and a male Mockingbird. The first flutter to attraction was a race between the Bluebird and the Hawk for the top of a large sweet locust tree which the former was evidently seeking for protection from the Hawk as the latter appeared bent upon catching the Bluebird to enjoy a feast off its carcass. The tree was reached successfully by the Bluebird and the fight began as soon as the Hawk could reach the tree. This kept up at a lively rate for a few moments, when one of the game Mockingbirds that inhabit the large pine trees in front of Capt. Crusman's residence sailed across the Lodge grounds and entered the locust tree for the purpose of loaning his formidable aid to the now imprisoned Bluebird. Quicker than thought the game Mocker went into the Hawk and dragged him out of the tree, and then for fully three minutes they fought desperately in mid air, during which time the feathers flew furiously all over the surrounding territory. Occasionally the little warriors would appear to be tangled up in a confused ball of flesh and feathers and while tightly clinched they would drop probable twenty feet, when they would release holds, flutter around awhile as if crazy and then they would clinch again and gouge each other vigorously as if the next stroke would be death to one or the other. The squawks of each bird were agonizing to hear and for a time it was thought that both would fall to the ground dead.

The lookers on had no way of interfering and nothing was to be done but stand and watch the fight. Eventually the airy warriors became disengaged and then the Hawk regained his equilibrium and darted away apparently glad that he had escaped with his life. The Mockingbird held his position in the air and was soon accompanied by his Bluebird, companion and they both found shelter in the large pine trees alluded to above. The Mockingbirds friendship for the "boy in blue" was fully demonstrated, and then the latter, by his last act, showed unquestionable gratitude to his benefactor.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A Very Rapid Increase Under Decreasing Circumstances.

The assumed rapid decrease of the public debt of the United States, as shown in the statements published, has seemed very marvelous to foreigners. The experience of other nations with their public debt leads them to doubt the statements of this country. Most of them have continually increasing instead of decreasing national debts.

How then, they ask, can the United States diminish its debt so rapidly?

The prosperity of the people during all these years has been unabated. In fact the country has never seen such an era of general prosperity. The two conditions appear to be contradictory.

Are the statements true?

In one sense they are undoubtedly correct, but the public debt has largely increased since the war. It has accumulated to the great inventors and discoverers whose successful efforts have eased the burdens of labor and made pleasant the pathway of toil.

A grateful public should also acknowledge its indebtedness to those who have promoted health and happiness. The proprietors of Warner's safe cure have given to the public a specific for all kidney disorders, and the innumerable train of frightful diseases that are caused by them. The late public teacher, Dr. Dio Lewis, who seldom prescribed medicines of any sort, gave to this renowned specific his warm commendation, and said if he found himself suffering from any kidney disorder he should use it. Kidney disorders are the cause of ninety-three per cent, say the proprietors of the remedy, of all diseases. If you keep the kidneys in health, you have the greatest assurance of freedom from all disease.

Before the discovery of this remedy, bright's disease was deemed incurable. Now the number of victims of the dread kidney diseases, and all others caused by such diseases, who are by it snatched from death constantly increases, and as the efficacy of the remedy becomes more widely known, those who have reason to be devoutly thankful that this wonderful specific has been made known to the world, multiply with rapidly increasing ratio.

GOSPEL GATHERINGS.

Considerable interest has been manifested in religious affairs by the Clarksville public recently. Rev. J. J. Porter a well known evangelist has been conducting a series of meetings at the Baptist church, and has met with some success, yet it is evident that the people have not yet become fully warmed up. Rev. Brigham, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, is causing a flutter among the people, assisted by Rev. Barbee an evangelist of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Elder D. W. Case, according to request, of the Y. M. C. Association, will preach a sermon to young men next Sunday morning at the public school building. Young men generally, and especially all connected with this congregation are earnestly requested to be present.

Among the visiting ministers in Clarksville this week are: Rev. B. F. Watson, of Princeton, Ky., who, by the way, is a native of Montgomery county, and Rev. T. O. Webb, of Charlotte, Tenn., both of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. They will remain a few days.

The colored people of Clarksville have been securing excellent results from their revival, which has been going on at St. John's Baptist church for some weeks, under the regular pastor, Rev. Huston Metcalfe, assisted by Elder Alexander Merritt. Over sixty souls have been converted and the good work goes bravely on. The next issue of the CHRONICLE will contain more of this.

Father Gleason preached his good bye sermon to his old congregation last Sunday, and is now in charge of a congregation at Nashville. The sermon was very eloquent, and many passages in it so pathetic that the entire audience moved to tears more than a dozen times. The scene which followed the sermon was very affecting. The congregation are very much attached to the Reverend Father, and his transfer to Nashville is regretted by all, not only in this church, but by every Chattanoogaan.

Rev. G. W. Winn pastor of the North High street M. E. Church Nashville, was presented with a handsome wax flower memento by the Ladies Aid Society after his sermon last Sunday night. The event was a touching and pleasant one.

Throughout the United States the Baptist church claims two million two hundred and fifty thousand communicants being the strongest of Protestants denominations. The Methodist come next with 1,700,000. The Lutherans have 950,000. Presbyterian 600,000. The Christian 501,000. The congregational 385,000. Episcopalians 345,000. Universalists 27,000. Unitarians 18,000. A total protestant membership of 6,800,000; while the Roman Catholics claim 6,800,000 members. It is probable however that less than half of these are actual communicants.

At Memphis a shooting affray occurred in a negro church on Marley Avenue, at 2 o'clock last Sunday morning. Lindsay Robertson was shot in the left shoulder by Wiley Brown, with a double barreled shotgun. Both colored. It is said a woman was mixed up in the case. The shooting occurred in the church during the latter end of a revival service.

Father William Walsh, of St. Bridget's church, Memphis, presided over his old flock the last time on last Sunday night and has gone to Chattanooga to take charge of one of the finest Catholic churches in the State.

Six thousand people attended a reception given Cardinal Gibbons at New Orleans last Sunday.

Rev. H. L. Burney will soon become a citizen of Clarksville.

The meeting at Oakland resulted in fifteen or twenty additions to the church.

Up to Sunday morning six persons had joined Spring Creek church, the result of the protracted meeting.

The protracted meeting at the Cumberland Presbyterian church is growing in interest and attendance. Services 10, a. m. and 7, p. m., each day, and will continue through next week. All are welcome.

Our lady friends will be interested in knowing that by sending 20c. to pay postage, and fifteen top covers of Warner's Safe Yeast (showing that they have used at least fifteen packages) to H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. York, they can get a 500 page, finely illustrated Cook Book, free. Such a book, bound in cloth, could not be bought for less than a dollar. It is a wonderfully good chance to get a fine book for the mere postage and the ladies should act promptly.

Elders Opera House.

The Bella Moore Company, with a splendid orchestra, opened to a splendid house Thursday night, and will remain in Clarksville until tonight. The engagement has been very pleasing to the amusement lovers of the city. "The Mountain Pink" is one of the best of sensational dramas. The scenes are laid in the mountains of North Carolina, and the people are "moonshiners," on the constant lookout for the "revenues." The plot is simple and direct. "The Mountain Pink" is a young girl brought up in the camp of the "moonshiners." She is as good as she is devoid of education, and sharp as she is stupid of the requirements of polite society. Miss Belle Moore is the heroine, and comes to the audience as "Sincerity Weeks."

Friday night, "Pigmalian;" Saturday Matinee, "Josh Whitcomb;" Saturday night the Danites. Admission 25, 35, and 50c. Matinee, children 15c, adults 25.

The Gilbert Huntly Dramatic Company, with an excellent orchestra and brass band, will commence a week's engagement at Elders Opera House, Monday, Nov. 21, in a repertoire of splendid plays.

Patti Rosa will present her new play "P. A. T." at Elders Opera House Nov. 19. Miss Rosa is an excellent actress, and is supported by a fine company. She is playing to crowded houses in the large cities. She is well known here, and a mere mention of her appearance should be sufficient to draw a large house.

Mrs. T. P. Bowers, one of the most gifted actresses of the American stage, will appear at Elders Opera House Friday, Dec. 2. The press and public speak in the highest terms of her every where.
